

ADDENDUM 2

- If we use a carrier that is dedicated to hauling jet fuel and avgas, do you require documentation of pre-delivery testing with every load as mentioned in Section 3.4.1.1?

Yes, industry standard procedures. For clarification and when using a dedicated carrier, see Attachment A

- Do you have a preferred carrier that is currently delivering the fuel to KVCT that currently performs the testing required in Section 3.4.1.3?

Current fuel supplier has a preferred carrier. The airport does not select carriers.

- Can you confirm the breakdown of gallons in Section 3.21 to separate the retail, contract fuel and DLA gallons? Also, please clarify what the volume numbers represent in the "Victoria" and "Buybacks" columns?

Current supplier created the table in question; please refer to tables created by the airport for additional information.

Buybacks includes gallons paid back to Victoria Regional Airport for DLA transactions. The current fuel provider created this table, but we believe the Victoria column represents the number of Jet A purchased by the airport.

- What is the expiration of the current DLA contract? What is the plan for handling a new contract should you choose a new fuel supplier? Will the current contract holder be required to purchase product needed to support the DLA needs from the new supplier?

Current contract expires 03/31/2027

If a new supplier is selected, we expect the new supplier to work an arrangement with the previous supplier as per industry practices.

We cannot require the current contract holder to purchase product from new contractor. However, we expect that the two suppliers can work an arrangement as per industry practices.

- Does the airport hold multiple inventories or is it all supplied by your current fuel supplier?

No, all provided by the current fuel supplier

- Would the airport consider a 10-year agreement?

Yes, but not guaranteed.

- Can the airport share a copy of the current Fuel Supply agreement?

Yes, attached following Attachment B.
